

marijuana and cocaine/crack was reported by between 1% and 2% of adults. Less than 1% of adults reported addiction to hallucinogens or to heroin (0.2% and 0.1%, respectively).

Current addiction as reported by these adults again showed tobacco/nicotine as the number one drug of addiction at 27%. Alcohol was reported as a current source of addiction by almost 2% of adults, while prescription drugs or “pills,” marijuana, and cocaine/crack, hallucinogens like LSD, etc., and heroin were reported as current sources of addiction by decreasing percentages of adults, ranging from close to 1% (0.9%) down to 0.05%.

The percentage of lifetime addicted users who are currently addicted suggests the power of these drugs over people. The highest percentage of ever addicted adults are currently addicted to tobacco/nicotine (70.9%). Lower rates of ever to current addicted adults are observed for prescription drugs or “pills” (40.3%), hallucinogens like LSD, etc. (40.0%), marijuana (39.0%), alcohol (25.9%), and heroin (25.0%). Surprisingly, the drug type least likely to be still addicting adults who reported ever being addicted to it is cocaine or crack, at 14.0% of adults ever addicted to it now addicted to it.

G. ALCOHOL AND DRUG-RELATED LIFE PROBLEMS

The following list of questions was asked to all the lifetime AOD users to target their personal experiences when using alcohol or other drugs.
