

Health Resource Shortage Areas for General Dental Care

Dental shortage areas are designated by the Tennessee Department of Health to include the 30 counties displaying the highest ratio of general dental care provider to total population in the state. A map of these shortage areas for 2003 is on the next page.