

alcohol use and SIDS...

SIDS Rates by Maternal Alcohol Use During Pregnancy, Tennessee, 1990-1998

Alcohol Use During Pregnancy

- Alcohol use during pregnancy was associated with the highest SIDS rate.
- 59% of women who used alcohol had 2 or more additional risk factors.

- 61% of women who reported prenatal alcohol use also reported tobacco use during pregnancy.
- Women who used alcohol during pregnancy were twice as likely to have a child born low birth weight compared to women who did not use alcohol.

Good News

In Tennessee, the percentage of mothers reporting alcohol use during pregnancy decreased 55% between 1990 and 1998.

Trend in Births to Women Reporting Alcohol Use During Pregnancy Tennessee, 1990-1998

